Welcome to the Engineering Leadership Professional Programs

Your leadership as engineering professionals is critical in a world with increased dependence on engineered devices, processes and systems. We welcome the opportunity to host you, participating in the long running UC Berkeley Engineering Leadership Professional Program (ELPP) offered in three formats:

— ELPP Silicon Valley (SV) | In-person | January - June

— ELPP Global (GL) | Online | August - December

And, for ELPP SV or ELPP GL alumni exclusively, we've recently added:

— ELPP PLUS+ (++) | Online | May - November

Designed by Ikhlaz Sidhu in 2011, the ELPP vision has been to inspire engineers and scientist to take on issues beyond their field and have a larger impact on their companies, themselves and the world. All three programs uphold this goal, as we continuously update curriculum to help you grow and develop toward your future career potential.

Our Berkeley Method of teaching, developed at the Sutardja Center, uniquely blends case study, interactive exercises and new perspectives enabling you to build your ecosystem, develop a growth mindset and utilize frameworks for decision making. Our faculty includes award winning professors from UC Berkeley and beyond as well as iconic industry professional sharing their real world experience and insights.

We look forward to working with you as we aspire to transform the role of engineers and scientists in business.

UNLOCK YOUR Leadership Potential

Innovative companies require engineers who can be technical experts as well as strategic managers and directors. The next generation of leaders will need a unique combination of technical horsepower, entrepreneurial ability and business judgment.

CREATED FOR ENGINEERS BY AN ENGINEER

ELPP readies technical professionals for the next step in their career by augmenting their analytical skills with proven business methodology and techniques. Created for engineers by an engineer, the program builds off the Innovation Engineering framework from Chief Scientist and UC Berkeley Sutardja Center founding director, Ikhlaz Sidhu. His proven platform for education utilizes theory, networking, and interactive practice to build a strong repertoire of skills in the technology leader.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

- Technology Executives
- Managers and Directors
- Senior Engineers
- Technical professionals considering a management role

OUTCOMES

ENGINEERING LEADERSHIP CERTIFICATE FROM UC BERKELEY

Toolkit for tech strategy decisions

Leading edge insights into operational innovation

Opportunity for experimentation and collecting best practices in authentic leadership, negotiations and influence

Re-enforcement with hands-on group or individual project

Online access to synchronous and asynchronous videos and presentations

Wide selection of informational and educational opportunities through Sutardja Center Events and articles

Lifelong ecosystem of instructors, industry mentors and peers from Silicon Valley's top tech companies

ELPP is offered In-person in Silicon Valley or 100% online.

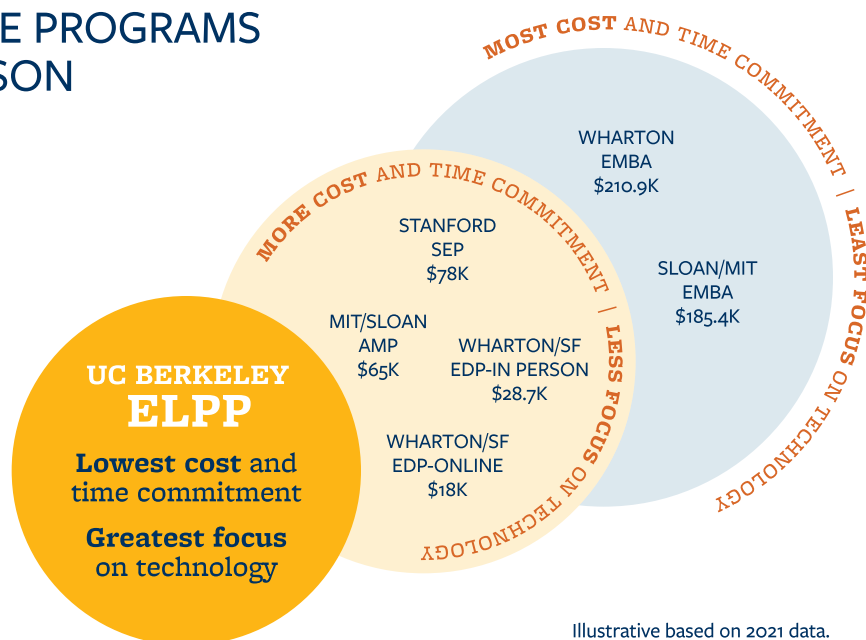

Choose which format works best for you.

The Berkeley Advantage

The University of California at Berkeley (est. 1868), the world's premier public university and a wellspring of innovation is located in the San Francisco Bay Area and neighbors the Silicon Valley epicenter. The university is home to over 35,000 students and is consistently ranked as one of the top universities worldwide. According to a National Research Council analysis, UC Berkeley has the largest number of highly ranked graduate programs in the country. Since 2000, the National Science Foundation has awarded more Graduate Research Fellowships to UC Berkeley students than to those of any other university (including MIT, Stanford and Harvard).
